

LADIES' TAILORS ALSO GIN BOTTLERS

Detectives Trap Them in Loft and Cart Away Three Wagon Loads.

Detectives Guran and Mulderg of Police Headquarters shortly after dark last night noticed a light on the second floor of the loft building at 120 West Seventeenth Street. Finding the place locked Guran climbed the fire escape and entered an open window. There he found a girl and three men engaged in filling and corking bottles and labeling them Gordon gin. In the day time the loft is used for the manufacture of ladies' dresses.

Max Cohn and his son, Nathan, who live at 100 West 115th Street, Matthew Cerino of 41 Kenmore Street and Miss Josephine Harbo of 28 East Broadway were arrested and locked up in the West Twentieth Street station, charged with manufacturing and possessing intoxicants.

It took three patrol wagons to transport the grain alcohol, gin, two stills and other illicit stuff seized on the premises to the station house. The elder Cohn in the daytime uses the loft for the legitimate manufacture of ladies' dresses, where, the police say, the son, young woman and other men are regularly employed as button hole makers.

When the detectives entered the loft they say they found Miss Harbo passing Gordon gin labels on square bottles. She told the police she had been asked to work last night by the elder Cohn. The four prisoners declared they did not know they were breaking the law.

Despite Mayor Hylan's recent instructions to Police Commissioner Enright that private dwellings shall not be raided for evidence of liquor violations without search warrants, policemen appearing before the Kings county Grand Jury testified yesterday that no such orders have been officially issued to the force.

Out of ninety-three cases presented sixty were dismissed either because no search warrants were issued or for lack of evidence. Policemen testified the only information they had about Mayor Hylan's letter to the Police Commissioner was through the newspapers.

One of the cases dismissed was that of Dr. Walter Crawford, whose emergency kit bag was searched in a restaurant at Coney Island. In it was found a small vial of whiskey. Dr. Crawford declared he went to the beach for a swim and that the whiskey was part of the supplies always carried in a physician's kit bag.

Cautious citizens bearing samples of their private liquor stock flocked to the Government's testing laboratory in the Federal Building and implored the chemists to test the stuff at once. They had read in the newspapers that the Government had placed its facilities at the disposal of citizens to save the public from the consequences of drinking bad liquor and the like.

Chief Chemist B. A. Edson told them that he had received no authority from Washington to make such tests and turned them away with a warning to fight shy of prohibition agents. The laboratories are used to test liquor used as evidence against violators of the prohibited act in the Federal courts.

of or traffic in intoxicating liquor, shall search any private dwelling without a warrant directing such search, and no such warrant shall issue unless there is reason to believe such dwelling is used as a place in which liquor is manufactured for sale or sold.

The term "private dwelling" shall be construed to include the room or rooms occupied not transiently but solely as a residence in an apartment house, hotel or boarding house. Any violation of any provision of this paragraph shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed $1,000 or imprisonment not to exceed one year or both, such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

The conference agreement is as follows: "Section 6. That any officer, agent, or employee of the United States engaged in the enforcement of this act, or the National Prohibition Act, or any other law of the United States, who shall search any private dwelling as defined in the National Prohibition Act, and occupied as such dwelling, without a warrant directing such search, or who while so engaged shall without a search warrant maliciously and without reasonable cause search any other building or property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined for a first offence not more than $1,000, and for a subsequent offense not more than $1,000 or imprisonment of not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment.

"Whoever, not being an officer, agent or employee of the United States shall falsely represent himself to be such officer, agent or employee and in such assumed character shall arrest or detain any person, or shall in any manner search the person, buildings or other property of any person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment of not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment."

$600,000 in Liquor Set for Smuggling

DULUTH, Aug. 20.—A plot to smuggle more than $600,000 worth of liquor into the United States by way of Rainy River and Beaudette is being engineered by Winnipeg shippers, according to word received at the United States customs office here today. Warnings have been sent to officials of the carrying out of the alleged plot.

The shipment, to consist of five carloads of beer, whiskey, alcohol and brandy, is now at Rainy River and is being guarded by several men, advices received here said.

Owners of the liquor, it is said, made no secret of the fact that it is intended for shipment into the United States. When it was seized by the Canadian authorities the owners are said to have presented the defence that the consignment was intended for export.

prisonment of not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment.

"Whoever, not being an officer, agent or employee of the United States shall falsely represent himself to be such officer, agent or employee and in such assumed character shall arrest or detain any person, or shall in any manner search the person, buildings or other property of any person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment of not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment."

fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

Soon after the compromise text was made public Representative Volstead issued a statement in which he said:

"Amendment No. 32 made it illegal to attempt to make any search of any property or premises without a search warrant. As a number of statutes exist that permit search without warrants this would have repealed or modified these statutes. It would have also deprived an officer of the right of search, always recognized as incident to lawful arrest.

"The adoption of this amendment would have greatly interfered with prohibition enforcement, not only of the prohibition law, but of other laws, as its provisions were general in character. It would have served to shield those now engaged in illegal traffic of liquor by means of automobiles and other swiftly moving vehicles.

No Vital Change Effectuated.
"As the amendment is redrafted it does not take from the officers any right to search where under existing law such right exists, and it does not confer upon them any right to make any search where under existing law they have none. The question of its constitutionality as granting any unlawful right of search is not involved. The provision agreed to simply provides that a penalty may be imposed on any officer for any search made maliciously and without reasonable cause.

"It should be noted that the amendment agreed to omits the provision contained in the amendment of the House requiring proof that liquor is manufactured for sale or sold in a dwelling place before a search warrant can issue. This omission does not affect any real change for the reason that the requirement is part of the national prohibition act and the bill makes no attempt to modify or repeal that provision.

of the revenue laws. That object is attained by the amendment agreed to by your conference, and in effect the amendment provides for the same thing as the House amendment, with the additions above noted.
